Reference is made to memorandum from [ ] to Mr. Mason, dated 9-15-55, captioned "NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL, NET EVALUATION SUBCOMMITTEE (SECURITY MEASURES - FBI INSTALLATION, [ ])". With regard to the security of the FBI microwave installation [ ] referenced memorandum recommended the construction of an 8-foot fence around the installation.

Memorandum Mr. Millen to Mr. Parsons, dated 10-10-55, under the same caption, reflected that the Laboratory concurred in the recommendation. It is noted that the installation is about 400 yards [ ] is normally unattended and although the building and equipment are locked, certain portions, such as the tower and wave guide elements, are unprotected.

[ ] has advised that [ ] would be able to install a fence on a transfer of funds basis, but that they do not have fencing and posts. Local inquiry has determined that the necessary material to enclose the area with an 8-foot chain-link fence, plus 1 foot of barb wire along the top of the fence, will cost approximately $470. This estimate, obtained from the Cyclone Fence Company, Alexandria, is based on fencing an area 30 feet by 50 feet and allows for an 8-foot access gate.

RECOMMENDATION:

1. In view of possible damage to the microwave installation from vandalism, common prowlers, etc., in addition to the possibility of sabotage, I recommend that this fence should be purchased and installed as soon as possible.

Reference is made to your memorandum dated November 18, 1955, setting forth the plan for the December, 1955, relocation test.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation will, of course, take part in this test and handle such communications as are transmitted to our relocation site by the Department. We plan to contact the Department relocation site on at least two occasions in addition to contacting all our field offices during the two-day period.

Immediately upon receipt of your simulated alert the Federal Bureau of Investigation alerting procedures will be placed into operation and selected Bureau personnel will proceed to our relocation site. However, since the alert will stem from you or your designated representative, we do not plan to alert Departmental officials as we would in an actual emergency.

Assistant Director J. H. Belmont will represent the Federal Bureau of Investigation at the Portofino briefing session and Liaison Agent [redacted] will also proceed to your relocation site, where he will represent this Bureau in a Liaison capacity during this test just as he will in an actual emergency.

Re my memorandum 11-23-55 captioned as above and brief for the fall-winter relocation test, both of which reflect that upon receipt of the alert from the Attorney General a Bureau Supervisor will proceed to his office and thereafter accompany him (the Attorney General) to his automobile. This arrangement was per a request of Mr. John Airhart, Relocation Coordinator of the Department.

On 11-30-55 Mr. Airhart telephonically advised a Supervisor of the Liaison Section that inasmuch as the Attorney General would not be in Washington on the day on which the test is being called it would be unnecessary for a Bureau Supervisor to proceed to his office and thereafter accompany him to his car.

ACTION:

Supervisors C. Q. Smith [redacted] of the Administrative Division, who have been delegated to relocate the Attorney General in a period of emergency, have been advised it will be unnecessary for either of them to proceed to the Attorney General's office on the day of the test.

[ ] Office of Defense Mobilization Relocation Specialist, advised Liaison Agent Whaley on December 1, 1955, that a majority of the Government agencies were interested in some type of courier service to be established between the agencies in time of an emergency. [ ] was aware that the Bureau maintains its own courier service, but wondered if we would be interested in an intra-Government agency courier service in the event it was established during an emergency.

Observation:

It appears that a courier service between the Government agencies would be practical in an emergency. However, it does not appear sound from the Bureau's viewpoint since we could not give our mail to couriers from say the Army or Navy to be delivered to Atomic Energy Commission or the Air Force inasmuch as we would lose control of the mail and would not be sure if it were delivered.

RECOMMENDATION:

That [ ], via liaison, be advised that in the event of an emergency the Bureau will establish its own courier service at its relocation site.

Rememo today (12/6) entitled "War Plans - Department of Justice." indicating Department may change

He stated that otherwise the plans remain the same; namely, that the alert will be sounded by Deputy Attorney General Rogers and thereafter the appointed personnel will proceed at once to the relocation site, [REDACTED] and the briefing will be held on the Attorney General's Portfolio. He advised confidentially that Mr. Rogers will sound the alert and call the Director about 9:30 Thursday morning. I inquired at what time the Department will cease operations [REDACTED] He said about 3:30 or 4:00 Thursday afternoon. I told him I would like to be sure of this, as our operations are necessarily geared to the Department's [REDACTED] He said that unless advised to the contrary this afternoon, the Department would not attempt to

This changes the complexion [REDACTED] Our plans were geared [REDACTED] The instructions from ODM leave the duration [REDACTED] up to the discretion of the head of the agency, but recommend a minimum of 8 hours for actual operations at the relocation site. While I did not mention this to [REDACTED] he apparently checked the requirements, because he called me back at 4:15 p.m. and advised that as ODM requirements suggest an 8-hour [REDACTED] the Department will probably keep communications personnel [REDACTED] until 8:00 p.m. on December 8. He indicated that the personnel attending the briefing would leave earlier.

Memorandum to Mr. Boardman from Mr. Belmont

Our communications test must necessarily be revised. We will go through the alert and evacuation exactly as before. Upon arrival [ ] we will notify the Department [ ] and ODM [ ] that we are operational. We will thereafter communicate with all field offices by either telephone, radio or teletype, by an innocuous message simulating launching the Emergency Detention Program and requiring a reply within 2 hours.

An "All Field Divisions radio broadcast" will be made at 12:45 p.m. Eastern Standard Time as a further communications test.

In view of the time element, we will not make the availability checks we had planned, but we will work the additional problems as time permits, including, of course, use of the microwave and communications with the Department at its relocation site.

We will be complying with ODM instructions by the extensive communications test set forth above.

PERSONNEL

We are rechecking with Records and Communications Division as to whether they can cut down on personnel in view of the time element; otherwise, there will be no change in personnel.

COMMENTS

The Bureau will be meeting its responsibilities under this test and we will, of course, be able to check completely our communications system.

It does not appear necessary to hold all our personnel [ ] until 8:00 p.m. If we become operational shortly after 10:30 a.m., we should be able to release all but a skeleton force of personnel at 7:00 p.m., keeping only sufficient personnel to handle any communications from the Department between 7 and 8 p.m. Therefore, we will send the bus back [ ] at 7:00 p.m., if you agree.

[ ] advised that a conference is scheduled between Mr. Rogers and Mr. Tompkins on the morning of December 7; that he does not think there will be any changes in this schedule, but if there are, he will let us know at once.

RECOMMENDATION:

If you agree, we will proceed as above.

We will check with [ ] again in the morning.

WAR PLANS
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

b6
b7C

On December 1, 1955, [redacted] Security Control Officer of the Department of Justice, furnished us with five copies of the attached booklet entitled "Emergency Procedures - Department of Justice," dated November 28, 1955. This is the new proposed War Plans of the Department of Justice, to replace the plans we received in February, 1955. We have gone over these proposed plans and the only comment we are prepared to make is a refinement of the language on page 1 of Appendix II. As now worded, it would indicate that we should try to reach the Attorney General for a period up to thirty minutes in an emergency, before notifying other Departmental officials. I discussed this with Relocation Officer John Airhart and he agreed that this should be changed.

On the morning of December 6, we received a copy of a memorandum from Frederick V. Ford of the Department, setting forth a long chain of command within the Department to be effective in an emergency. This appears to conflict with the chain of authority set forth in Appendix IV of the above-mentioned emergency procedures - Department of Justice, dated November 28, 1955. Mr. Airhart advised me that he just received a copy of this and it will be necessary for the two Divisions of the Department to get together and iron out the apparent conflict. I also called Mr. Frederick Ford and pointed out to him there was an apparent conflict. He stated he would get together with Airhart to resolve this. I told him that meanwhile we would not comment to the Department on either of these documents. Ford said he would get in touch with us.

While I was talking to Mr. Airhart, he advised that Mr. Tompkins had just talked to Deputy Attorney General Rogers and that Tompkins had suggested to Rogers that it might be better to conduct the test alert during the day rather than having personnel stay overnight. Airhart said this was an entirely new development, that he expected to hear from Deputy Attorney General Rogers this morning and he would let us know.

ASAC ROBERT J. LALLY
BALTIMORE FIELD DIVISION
ADMINISTRATIVE MATTER

In connection with "War Plans" [redacted] a telephone call was made to the Baltimore Office from the Bureau Relocation Site at 11:56 a.m., [redacted] Inasmuch as neither the SAC nor the ASAC was in the office at the time the call was received by the Baltimore Office, it was taken by Special Agent Fred Bauknight.

SA Bauknight said that ASAC Lally was acting in charge of the office in the SAC's absence. In view of this, SA Bauknight was instructed to have ASAC Lally explain why he was not in the office at the time the call came through.

At 12:29 p.m., December 8, ASAC Lally talked with the Bureau
Relocation Site and stated he had first attempted to reach the Relocation Site at 12:14 p.m. He explained that he had been in the men's lavatory at the time the call came in to the Baltimore Office from the Relocation Site. He said he walked back into his office just as SA Bauknight was hanging up the phone at the end of the telephone call.

RECOMMENDATION:

Inasmuch as ASAC Lally was in the office and did personally call the Bureau Relocation Site within a matter of minutes, it is recommended that no administrative action is warranted.

C. R. [Signature]

This is a summary memorandum covering our operations at the Bureau Relocation Site [REDACTED]

Since I was present with the Department [REDACTED]
Mr. Hennrich was in charge of operations [REDACTED]

THE ALERT

The alert was initiated by the Director at 9:30 a.m., [REDACTED] [REDACTED] upon receipt of notification from Deputy Attorney General Rogers.
Through prearranged notification system, all persons scheduled for relocation were notified and accounted for by 9:43 a.m. All persons actually participating in [REDACTED] were accounted for and the bus departed Washington, D. C., at 9:39 a.m., arriving [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] The last arrival [REDACTED] was 10:38 a.m. The Justice Department [REDACTED] and the Office of Defense Mobilization [REDACTED] [REDACTED] were immediately notified that the FBI was operational at its Relocation Site [REDACTED] Department was operational [REDACTED]

SCHEDULED PROBLEMS

A series of 16 problems simulating actual situations which would face us during an emergency were drawn up in advance [REDACTED] Personnel were kept busy throughout the period of the test handling these problems.
We were able to do a limited amount of checking on the Security Index maintained [REDACTED] during the day as time permitted.

The [REDACTED] communications and involved two problems wherein all field offices were contacted. One contact was entirely by radio and the other contact was by a combination of radio, telephone and teletype. The problems presented to the field amounted to a critical test of the ability of both the Bureau and the field to handle emergency communications promptly and accurately.

A brief resume of the problems follows:

Notification to the Department

The Department was notified by call placed at 10:34 a.m. and completed at 10:42 a.m. that the Bureau was operational.

At 10:52 a.m., [ ] the Department called [ ] and requested our telephone numbers [ ] stating he had contacted us through [ ] obtaining the connection through them. After authentication, [ ] was furnished with our telephone numbers. The Bureau has previously furnished these numbers to the Department and they should have been available [ ]

Notification to the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM)

[ ] The Office of Defense Mobilization [ ] was notified that the FBI was operational by call placed at 10:34 a.m. and completed at 10:45 a.m. This involved a test of the microwave phone system, which was excellent.

Alert to All Field Offices, Simulating Initiation of the Emergency Detention Program (DETCOM)

Contact was made with all field offices by either telephone, teletype or radio. This operation began at 11:01 a.m. and all offices were contacted by 12:58 p.m. Telephone calls were completed by 12:10 p.m., radio contact by 12:19 p.m., and teletypes by 12:58 p.m. There was a slight delay in connection with the teletype messages to one group of offices, occasioned by the Chicago commercial teletype board. This will be covered in detail under "Communications." All offices were given 2 hours in which to reply to this message, and all answered within 2 hours.

Protective Custody Enemy Diplomats

This operation involved 3 separate communications problems: 1. a simulated contact with the State Department; 2. an alert to the field; and 3. simulated instructions to the field to place the operation into effect. The latter entailed field contacts between New York and Philadelphia and between Washington, ~~D.C.~~ and Baltimore. All were completed without delay.

Memorandum to the Director from Mr. Belmont

Investigative Problems

b7E

There were 4 separate investigative problems worked throughout the day, which entailed radio, teletype and telephone communications with various offices in the West and Southwest and with the Albany Office. One of the problems entailed contacts between Bureau offices, with answers coming into the Relocation Site from field offices not originally contacted from the Relocation Site. All of these were completed promptly.

All Stations Radio Test

A radio message was sent to all stations except 14 at 12:46 p.m. to determine how long it would take the Bureau to contact all stations by radio. Thirty-eight offices were involved. All had acknowledged within 28 minutes. Subsequently, at 4:20 p.m., messages were sent to the 14 remaining offices and all acknowledged within 31 minutes. The contact with these 14 offices entailed a relay through the San Diego radio station.

Laboratory Problems

The Laboratory worked four problems, involving test calls through our switchboard, via microwave, [redacted]. Several calls were placed throughout the day, including the initial notification [redacted] that the FBI was operational, and a telephone communication to the Department Relocation Site [redacted] which involved both the use of microwave and land line. The Baltimore Office was instructed to operate its radio equipment on emergency power for a period of 30 minutes. The test was successful. The Baltimore Office was instructed to use its radioactivity detection meter, which was successful. In addition, the Laboratory activated the military radio truck and placed it in a stand-by condition. The truck demonstrated its ability to send and receive radio teletype messages, as well as to handle [redacted] radio messages.

Communications

Switchboard

All telephone communications during the day were handled promptly and without incident, with one exception. At 11:30 a.m., [redacted] was unable to reach [redacted] by phone. He immediately notified the Bureau Relocation Site by teletype. This was immediately checked with the telephone company, and the line was cleared within 13 minutes of the difficulty. The line functioned properly the remainder of the day.

Teletype

Teletype facilities functioned properly and all messages dispatched were handled promptly and without incident with the exception of one group of messages sent by conference to 24 field offices. This involved a slight delay as a result of a foul-up in the Chicago commercial teletype board when the circuit was temporarily broken. The chief operator in Richmond and the Chief Operator in Chicago corrected the problem of a misunderstanding on the part of the telephone company teletype operators at Chicago. No further difficulties were encountered during the remainder of the day.

Radio

The operation of the ☐ radio emergency facilities was efficiently handled by the personnel. There was no malfunctioning of equipment and all messages were handled without delays.

Communications with the Department

During the day, several telephone calls were exchanged between our Relocation Site and the Department Relocation Site ☐ All were handled without delay. Also, several teletypes were exchanged between our Relocation Site and the Department Relocation Site. These were all satisfactorily handled. In addition, one teletype message addressed to the Department from the Department Relocation Site was misdirected ☐ Shortly thereafter this was corrected by the Department Relocation Site.

Difficulties Encountered (within the Bureau)

(1) We had temporary difficulty in obtaining telephone contact ☐ ☐ to our relocation site. This was promptly cleared up by the telephone company.

(2) We had a temporary interruption in sending out teletype communications by reason of an interruption in the telephone company facilities at Chicago. This was promptly taken up by the [redacted] chief operator with the Chicago chief operator and no further difficulties were encountered during the day.

(3) We had a terrific volume of work [redacted] during the peak [redacted]. This was most efficiently handled by the personnel on hand, although there was some piling up at times. This situation, of course, would not prevail during actual emergency conditions, since all communications personnel would be available.

(4) Neither the Special Agent in Charge nor the Assistant SAC in Baltimore was immediately available when called. The SAC was out of the office. ASAC was acting in charge. The ASAC promptly submitted an explanation, which is attached. This was a momentary delay. The ASAC was in the men's room.

Difficulties Encountered (outside the Bureau)

(1) The Department had difficulty in originally contacting the Bureau Relocation Site, since it did not have available our telephone numbers [redacted]. We had furnished information concerning our numbers to the Department by memorandum dated January 19, 1955. It was necessary for the Department to contact us by calling the ODM Relocation Site [redacted].

PERSONNEL

Attached is a list of personnel who took part in the operations [redacted]. All of the personnel were serious in their demeanor, went about their jobs in a businesslike manner, and handled a terrific volume of work during the limited period of this test. Their attitude was excellent and they performed their duties in an exemplary manner.

[redacted] and his staff did an excellent job and assisted in every possible way in facilitating the successful handling of the operation.

CONCLUSIONS

The results of [redacted] as a whole were successful. There were no unusual problems or delays.

Memorandum to the Director from Mr. Belmont.

RECOMMENDATIONS

SUBJECT: BUREAU CODES;
 ○ BUREAU WAR PLANS - AUXILIARY, SPACE FOR S.O.G.

The following Bureau employees stationed [redacted] were given approximately two days of concentrated training in Bureau codes, December 6 and 7, 1955: [redacted]

This was an extremely concentrated course in technical instruction involving more than twenty different cryptographic systems. Special emphasis was placed on [redacted] the back-up one-time cipher pad systems and the systems set up for use with other Government agencies in emergency operation.

The enthusiasm and diligence these men exhibited in applying themselves to this very difficult task and the excellent way in which they grasped an understanding of these codes is most commendable.

Reference is made to memorandum from Mr. Belmont to Mr. Boardman, 12/14/55, captioned as above, pointing out that all participating departments and agencies are to submit one problem for the test not later than 2/1/56. [REDACTED] Relocation Coordinator for the Department, telephonically advised Supervisor J. E. McArdle of the Liaison Section on 12/15/55 that after conferring with Assistant Attorney General Tompkins, he was preparing a memorandum requesting Assistant Attorney General Rankin to prepare a Department-wide problem for submission to the Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM) and use in Operation Alert 1956. [REDACTED] advised that this probably would be a problem involving martial law and he has suggested to Mr. Rankin that before submitting it to ODM, he will want to send it to the FBI for comment.

[REDACTED] advised that it was his opinion that one Department-wide problem submitted under the signature of the Attorney General would meet the ODM requirements for the one problem from each participating department and agency [REDACTED]

WAR PLANS - HIGHWAY
 PRIORITIES IN MILITARY AREAS

On September 21, 1954, Major General John A. Klein, The Adjutant General, by confidential memorandum, instructed Army commanders to take cognizance of the urgency with which security measures must be pursued in a time of national emergency and to provide the highest practicable priority and freedom of movement for personnel of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, military security agencies and other security agencies operating within the area of their command. These instructions from General Klein are cited as follows: "(AGAC-C. (M) 200.4 (15 Sept 54) TCMTD, Priority For Travel of Security Personnel During National Emergencies, 21 September 1954)."

The manner in which each vehicle having priority in the area is to be marked is set forth in the military document known as [redacted] dated September 6, 1955.

[redacted] is an agreement which applies to the United States Armed Forces and the forces of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Paragraph 23 of this agreement provides for priority [redacted]

Although each office has been provided with Federal Civil Defense Administration motor vehicle markers (SF 139), the Bureau must still make provision to obtain appropriate markers for vehicles which must be used within a military area during a period of emergency. It is the Bureau's desire that each Special Agent in Charge receiving a copy of this memorandum contact the commanding officer of the Army area in which your office is located and ascertain from him the manner in which he plans to provide for Bureau needs under the provision of Major General Klein's letter to all commanding officers dated September 21, 1954, and cited above.

Re my memorandum December 9 reporting on the briefing of the Attorney General's Portfolio [REDACTED] on December 8.

I talked to Deputy Attorney General Rogers today advising him that the main thing which bothered me concerning the briefing was the need to crystallize and advance the mechanics whereby the Bureau would get prompt authority to initiate our two vital programs, namely the Emergency Detention Program and the program of taking into custody enemy diplomatic officials. I pointed out to Mr. Rogers that all of the planning for these programs, including the Attorney General's Portfolio, would go for nothing unless mechanics were set up in advance whereby the programs could be promptly initiated in an emergency; that I understood Mr. Rankin was on a committee considering this and particularly whether some of these vital documents would not be furnished to the President in advance so that he could act on them at once in an emergency.

Mr. Rogers said it was his feeling that the Portfolio should be approved and issued promptly by the Attorney General, that if there were some further changes to be made they could be made but meanwhile the revised Portfolio should be operational. He agreed further that mechanics should be set up whereby authority could be obtained immediately for the launching of these programs. He felt that the Attorney General or whoever was acting for him should be in a position to telephonically contact the President and if he could not reach the President to authorize the launching of the programs himself. I reiterated that our main concern is to get proper authority from some source immediately and it was, of course, vital to the Attorney General to know exactly where he stood in these matters. Mr. Rogers said he would follow through to see that there was action taken within the Department on this and he would let us know.

Following the alert at 9:30 AM, December 8, 1955, Liaison Agent [REDACTED] and I left at 9:38 AM [REDACTED] the Department's relocation site, arriving there at 11:40 AM. Some of the Department's communications staff were there, having been sent up in advance, the remainder of Departmental personnel arrived anywhere from 11:42 AM to about 12:00 noon. Immediately upon arrival of Deputy Attorney General Rogers I advised him our relocation site had requested authority to implement the Emergency Detention Program and the program involving enemy diplomats. He gave immediate authority [REDACTED] was so notified.

The group to be briefed on the Attorney General's Portfolio assembled in the courtroom about 12:15 PM and Rogers dismissed them for lunch to reassemble at 1:30 PM.

The briefing [REDACTED] started at 1:30 PM, lasted until 3:15 PM, after which [REDACTED] briefly discussed the instruction booklet to key Department personnel, and then the group was taken on a tour showing the communications setup, including the coding machines and the storage vault.

I was advised upon arrival that the Department had difficulty reaching our relocation center as they did not have the telephone number. I pointed out that the Department had been furnished the telephone numbers and they should have had them available [REDACTED].

There were about 35 people at the briefing, including Rogers, Tompkins, Warren Burger, James Bennett of the Bureau of Prisons, Deputy Commissioner King of INS, Andretta, and other Departmental officials. The ODM inspector was present. Rogers asked me if it was all right for an inspector to be present. I told him it was up to the Department but, regardless, all persons present should be warned that this Program was ~~TOP SECRET~~ and should not be discussed outside of the group itself. Rogers did this.

The briefing itself consisted of going through the actual Portfolio and explaining what was in it. It is complex and I doubt that persons present understood it except the general principles. As Ford mentioned to me later, they will probably forget all of it in two weeks except that portion concerning the writ of habeas corpus which is the part they should forget, from the standpoint of secrecy.

Ford told the group that the Portfolio is ready for operation as soon as Department of Defense had agreed to its responsibility and that Defense was being pushed on this; that there were several other minor matters which are being changed but the Portfolio will be presented to the Attorney General for his approval as soon as Defense has agreed.

I volunteered no information, on the theory that this was the Department's briefing and they should take responsibility for it. It was indicated to me that the Attorney General has again changed his plans and now plans to go directly [redacted] in an emergency instead [redacted] We will check further on this through Airhart to resolve this.

As far as the Bureau is concerned, the only thing I noted of real consequence was uncertainty as to at what point authorization would be given to the Bureau to implement its Programs, whether this would be done prior to the signing of the proclamation by the President and the joint resolution by Congress or subsequently, and just when the President would sign the proclamation. This, of course, strikes at the very heart of our problem as we must get prompt authority and it must be on an official rather than quasi-official basis. If you agree, I will talk to Mr. Rogers regarding this and suggest that he follow through within the Department to get this crystallized and set up for immediate action in an emergency.

On 1-3-56, while Mr. Bartlett of the Liaison Section was talking to Mr. Edward Cox, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM), Mr. Cox mentioned that a letter has just been sent to the Attorney General in response to the Attorney General's memorandum to ODM concerning "Emergency Transportation Plan." Mr. Cox stated that the letter from the Attorney General asked that the name of Director Hoover be removed from the list of those key government officials to be evacuated from Washington [redacted] during an emergency. Mr. Cox stated that the letter to the Attorney General advised that the Director's name has been removed from the ODM list and instructed the Attorney General to remove the Director's name from the Department of Justice list.

You will recall that by letter dated 11-17-55 to Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, Director, ODM, we asked ODM to get in touch with the Defense Department and point out the necessity to have [redacted] available for the Director and the FBI key staff to be taken to the FBI relocation site. Mr. Cox of ODM advised Mr. Bartlett that a letter has just been sent by ODM to Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson instructing them to study the feasibility [redacted] for the Director and the key FBI personnel to be used during an emergency. Mr. Cox stated that this letter will probably go to the Navy from the Secretary of Defense Office and that the Navy will probably get in touch with the Bureau in the near future.

ACTION:

For your information. Liaison will continue to follow this matter very closely with the necessary agencies until it is completely resolved.

On 1-3-56, Mr. Bartlett, Liaison Section, conferred with Mr. Edward Cox, Relocation Officer, and [redacted] Security Officer, Office of Defense Mobilization (ODM). During the discussion, it was learned that in connection with the Interagency Communications System ODM was drawing up a guide concerning the classification of the U.S. Government agencies' relocation sites. The purpose of this paper would be to advise the American Telephone and Telegraph Company (AT&T) the classification of each relocation site; however, the location of the site would not be given. AT&T at White Plains, New York, is working with ODM in connection with the Interagency Communications System and ODM feels that it is now necessary to furnish them with the classifications of the sites.

During this discussion, Mr. Bartlett learned that the FBI is the only agency whose relocation site is listed as "Top Secret." Only four agencies use the classification "Secret" in connection with their relocation sites. [redacted]

The remaining agencies, including [redacted] carry the classification "Confidential" for their sites and some of the agencies have orally brought up the possibility of using no classification.*

It should be pointed out that ODM has not suggested in any way that the FBI change its classification from "Top Secret" to something lower. However, they did point out that problems would arise in securing personnel to handle installations and repairs of communications equipment inasmuch as the workmen as it now stands would have to have Top Secret clearance in order to handle any work for the Bureau. It was pointed out to Mr. Bartlett that in the group of communications mechanics there are only a few that have Top Secret clearance and, therefore, the Bureau might suffer in getting work done during emergency in view of this technicality.

Blood transfusions are important in the treatment of casualties from a nuclear explosion.

Blast damage may cause injuries resulting in an excessive loss of blood. In addition, moderate dosages of nuclear radiations increase the probability of hemorrhages. Furthermore, white cell changes in the blood are to be expected. Therefore, part of the recommended therapy for radiation sickness includes blood transfusions.

Prior to many blood transfusions, it is necessary to know the blood type and Rh factor of both the victim and the donor. Thus, it appears that it would be valuable to have a list at the Relocation Site of the blood types and Rh factors of the personnel who will be assigned to that particular Relocation Site, in the event of an emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

That consideration be given to preparation of a list of blood types and Rh factors for the personnel who are to man the Relocation Site in the event of an atomic disaster.

ADDENDUM: IWC/mek 10/26/55 - Information of this kind, I understand, is already available in the Administrative Division relative to all Special Agent personnel as a result of Bureau's physical examination program. In addition, similar information is also available on certain of the clerical personnel who are blood donors. It is noted that the normal practice in giving blood transfusions is to have both the victim and the donor typed immediately prior to the transfusion. Accordingly, the value of a listing of the type proposed would consist primarily in speeding up the preliminary selection of possible donors. Since time is such a critical factor, I believe the proposal to maintain a list of blood types for personnel to be relocated has merit.

Memorandum 10-24-55 from Mr. Beach to Mr. Parsons recommended that a list of blood types and factors be prepared for personnel who are to man the Relocation Site in the event of an atomic disaster. The memo pointed out blood transfusions are important to treat casualties from nuclear explosions. Blast damage may cause injuries resulting in excessive blood loss. Moderate dosages of nuclear radiations increase possibility of hemorrhages. White cell changes occur in the blood of those exposed to radiation and recommended therapy for radiation sickness includes blood transfusions. It is important to know not only the blood type and factor of the victim but also the donor and to have this data available at the Relocation Site for emergency use. Transfusions are usually of an emergency nature and the most logical donors for victims at such site would be from those manning same.

You are aware that we maintain blood type and factors on all SAs and SEs which are obtained from annual physical examinations and recorded in the Physical Examinations Unit. We also maintain blood type and factor data on all clerical employees who, from time to time, have donated blood to the Red Cross or to Bethesda Naval Hospital. Otherwise such data on clerks is not available.

There are approximately 285 individuals listed for emergency evacuation (includes alternates). From this list until recently Bureau records disclosed the blood type and factors of 164 persons. Recently the remaining 121 individuals on whom this data is unknown were contacted and asked if they desired to voluntarily contribute blood to the Red Cross Blood Donor Center. From this group we were able to obtain 35 types and factors, leaving to date a balance of 86 whose types and factors are unknown. Red Cross will only take individuals to be typed and factored if they initially go there with the intent of donating. If they are then medically rejected, they are still typed and factored.

In order to obtain the necessary data concerning the remaining 86, Dr. C. K. Himmelsbach, Medical Director, Public Health Service, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was contacted by letter 12-8-55 and requested to authorize the U. S. Public Health Service

Outpatient Clinic, Washington, D. C., to secure the types and factors of this remaining group. By letter 12-20-55, Dr. Himmelsbach has authorized the Medical Officer in Charge (Dr. Stanley E. Krumbiegel) of the Public Health Service Outpatient Clinic to perform these services on the usual reimbursable basis of $3.75 per patient. This would cost us $322.50. Dr. Himmelsbach stated that the scheduling arrangements should be worked out with Dr. Krumbiegel. In order to keep the list current due to resignations, transfers, etc., we would probably have no more than two or three at the most per month added to the list on whom types and factors might be unknown. To maintain currency of the list, Domestic Intelligence Division should keep the Health Service posted.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

(1) That authority be granted to have the 86 persons scheduled for blood typing and factoring at U. S. Public Health Service Outpatient Clinic on reimbursable basis of $3.75 per patient. Initial outlay would only be $322.50 and cost would be nominal to keep such list in current status thereafter.

(2) If recommendation #1 is approved, Health Service will be furnished with a list of the 86 individuals and will make appropriate scheduling arrangements with Dr. Krumbiegel to obtain the necessary blood types and factors as expeditiously as possible, and will refer the types and factors to Mr. McArdle of the Domestic Intelligence Division. Thereafter, the latter division should post Health Service on any additions to the list where types and factors are unknown so said list can be kept current.

When we get the types on the 86, give data to Housing Unit so they will make up permanent record cards, & then refer data to Mr. McArdle with

As you know, each of the departments and agencies in the Executive Branch of the Government is staging its own relocation. Separate memoranda have been submitted and approved recommending that Liaison Agents accompany the Atomic Energy Commission and the Office of Defense Mobilization on their respective relocation tests. Liaison Agent [redacted] did accompany the Department of Justice to its relocation site [redacted].

It is believed that it would be to the Bureau's advantage to have each Liaison Agent accompany his agency during these relocations. Although it is not believed that the other agencies will have problems involving the Bureau during the individual relocation tests, it is believed that we will benefit by observing the manner [redacted] and in further acquainting the Liaison Agents with the relocation sites and personnel involved in the event of an emergency.

RECOMMENDATION:

It is recommended that approval be given for each of the Liaison Agents to accompany his respective agency during the present.

In order to secure the answers to several questions raised by field offices in connection with the above, it was necessary for me to contact Mr. M. E. Roebuck in charge of security procedures for the Treasury Department. Upon the conclusion of our conversation regarding the questions asked by the field offices, Mr. Roebuck advised me that he had been talking to one of his representatives who had returned from Boston and that individual had informed him that our Boston Office had been in contact with their Regional Disbursing Office and their office was very favorably impressed by our evident desire to be adequately prepared in the event of an emergency involving the operation of the Bureau's war plans on payroll, voucher and accounting procedures. While he did not say so in specific words, Mr. Roebuck indicated that it was rather unusual to find a Government agency actually doing its best to gear itself to operate effectively in the event of an emergency. Roebuck stated that we should not hesitate to call upon him at any time for any needed assistance along these lines. I, of course, thanked him and told him that we would certainly do so if the occasion arose.

By way of background information, this gentleman has in the past very appreciably assisted this office on an informal basis in drawing up the war plans on payroll, voucher and accounting procedures.

Reference is made to my memorandum of 12-14-55, under the same caption recommending that Liaison explore the possibility of getting details of an alert at the same time details are given to the White House and the National Indications Center (NIC). At the present time the details for an Air Defense Emergency and Air Defense Warning would only be furnished to the above agencies. Other agencies, including the FBI, would merely be advised of the alert by the U. S. Air Force Command Post. If the alert was predicated on intelligence information, we would be assured of having the details either through normal dissemination channels or from our representation at NIC. If the alert originated at the U. S. Air Force Command Post as a result of information obtained through the Air Defense Warning network, then our source for the details is the NIC.

This matter has been discussed by Liaison with General R. E. Koon, Deputy Director of Operations, U. S. Air Force, and Colonels J. G. Russell and J. L. Buckley, Chief and Deputy, U. S. Air Force Headquarters Command Post. During the discussion, the above officers very pointedly made the distinction between intelligence agencies as represented by NIC and operational agencies, suggesting that at the time of an alert intelligence agency functions are at best secondary. The Bureau's domestic and essential wartime functions were clearly pointed out to the above, making it clear that similar to the Air Force the Bureau would be an operational agency at the time of an attack. It was pointed out that at the time of an alert if the Bureau had the basis for the alert being initiated, the Director would be able to make a decision as to whether or not certain initial action could be taken to trigger our wartime programs.

General Koon advised that he appreciated the Bureau's need-to-know and instructed Colonels Buckley and Russell to come up with a recommendation whereby this information could be passed to the Bureau. The General suggested the use of an unlisted telephone which would permit the Bureau to immediately call the Command Post back after receiving an alert to obtain the details. Colonel Buckley pointed out this arrangement might not be satisfactory in view of the possible jamming of the commercial switchboard. Colonel Buckley suggested that the Bureau be furnished the same information as is furnished the White House at the time of the initial call, namely the minimum essential facts causing the alert without evaluation or estimate of the enemy forces or time.

The Air Defense Command Post at the Pentagon disseminates

The FBI can receive this background information from the National Indication Center through our membership on the Watch Committee and the Intelligence Advisory Committee. The White House is also prepared to immediately furnish progress reports concerning a possible attack to the sensitive Government agencies including the FBI. Insofar as known there will be no holdup on passing this vital information along to the Bureau from the White House.

On August 25 and 30, 1954, a Liaison Agent contacted Colonels Russell and Mason of the Command Post who advised that the

The Colonels pointed out that it would be impossible for the Command Post to furnish all agencies, [redacted] details, as to where and when the attack might occur. These individuals advised that the White House would be in a position to advise appropriate Government agencies and if the Bureau so desired arrangements could be made with the Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs to receive notice of possible attack. Colonel Russell pointed out that all information coming to the Pentagon Command Post would be more readily available at the headquarters of the Air Defense Command in Colorado Springs. The Denver Office has arranged with the Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs to be advised of all matters of interest to the Bureau in an emergency.

The 12/31/55 issue of "Technical Survey" carries an item concerning water purification unit which might have application at the Bureau's relocation site. According to information outlined, Army Engineers at Ft. Belvoir, Virginia, have developed a truck-mounted water purification unit which can make radioactive water safe to drink in 30 minutes. It is claimed to eliminate water contamination even though the enemy used his whole range of chemical, bacteriological and radiological methods. The unit can be put together by three men in less than 90 minutes and can be operated by one man. It is reported to turn out 3,000 gallons of water per hour from the most polluted stream. This item originally appeared in the New York "Times."

You might want to consider getting information from contacts at Ft. Belvoir regarding the availability of such a unit, its applicability, et cetera.

At 9:20 A.M., January 25, 1956, Liaison was advised by Mr. Dennis A. Flinn, Office of Security, Department of State, of the State Department's order to evacuate today.

Flinn notified the Bureau in order that the Bureau may send its liaison representative to State's emergency relocation site. The Bureau's war plans call for Liaison Agent M.W. Kuhrtz to evacuate with State in a liaison capacity. Flinn advised that he was not aware of any compelling reason for a Bureau representative's presence for the purpose of this.

After checking with you, Mr. Flinn's office was advised that in the absence of any compelling reason, the Bureau would not participate this date (1-25-56) in this.

ACTION:

The above is submitted for information. Flinn advised that to his knowledge there would be no problems involving the Bureau. Kuhrtz is familiar with State's emergency relocation site having acted in a liaison capacity at which time State evacuated to the above headquarters.

Colonel Richard G. Cox, Office of Special Investigations, advised Liaison January 25, 1956, that the Air Force will hold [redacted]. He stated that there would be very little actual participation due to the extensive travel involved in reaching the relocation site [redacted]. According to Cox, the only Air Force personnel who will actually travel [redacted] will be two aides out of the offices of General Carroll and General Landon.

Cox advised that at the present time the Air Force is contemplating a very limited participation [redacted]. At the present time they are considering relocating 25 key Air Force officers [redacted]. Cox pointed out that this was again a transportation problem. The Command Post at the Pentagon is writing the Air Force war plans.

ACTION:

For your information. In view of the Air Force meager participation [redacted] there is no necessity for FBI liaison, participating and we will not send a liaison representative with the Air Force [redacted].
